ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA. CAPITAL OVER 350,000 DOLLARS, AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING. The Charter of this Company offers more favorable advantages to the farmer and others, than any Company chartered in the State, by insuring with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium n cash, or by effecting a cash insurance for two years, the insured saves one-eighth of the amount ae would otherwise have to pay; or by becoming a member, and giving a small premium note, the insured saves nearly one-half of the amount charged by Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the E. L. Wightman, with illustrations, 75c. CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE. MISCELLANEOUS READING. CRIME IN INDIANA.

In the winter of 1858-'9 a physican named Rowe, temporarily located in Oxford, Benton county, twenty miles west of this city, and boarded at a hotel in that place kept by Mr. George King. A short time after his arrival there he mysteriously disappeared, under circumstances which led to the belief that he had been murdered by persons living in Oxford, and the body buried in one of the many swamps in the vicinity. Officers have been diligently searching for evidence to fix the crime on the suspected parties, but up to Thursday last all their efforts had been in

On Wednesday the Attica Anti-horse Thief Company held a meeting and resolved to make a number of arrests on suspicion. Accordingly, on Thursday the company, about TERMS OF SALE .- One touth of the purchase George W. King, the hotel keeper with whom Dr. Rowe had boarded, and a person named James Rogers. King became greatly alarmed upon his arrest, and was soon prevailed on to make a confession, in which he fully implicated himself, Rogers, and a man named > to Middleport, Illinois. King stated that about two months after Dr. Rowe began boarding with him, he learned that he was possessed of upwards of $2,-000 in cash. A scheme was immediately concocted between the parties named to rob the doctor of his money. After several unmitting the crime of murder, they determined upon the latter course. Accordingly, Rogers and Haggett were stationed on the roadside, in a secluded locality, between Oxford and this city, a short distance from the former place, about dark, on the night of the murder. King ordered his carriage brought out, remarking that he had business in this city that night which demanded his presence here. A half hour after leaving home he returned in great haste, and announced to Dr. Rowe that a person was lying dangerously ill at a farm-house a few miles off, and that

> King then apparently resumed his journey to this city, but only drove out to the locality where his accomplices were stationed. After placing his horse and carriage out of the way, the three men waited the arrival of the Dector, who soon came along, when they stopped him, took him from his horse, and a short distance from the road they deliberately shot and buried him. The villians thus secured the coveted $2,000, which was divided between them. A deputation of the Regulators is en route for Middleport to arrest the man Haggett. The accused are all married men. The conviction of these men will loubtless throw light upon another tragedy which occurred about the same time in that locality. A mail carrier turned up missing on the same road in a manner similarly mys-

ne had consented to drive back and request his immediate attendance at the place named.
